

Work Smarter with UWEBC: 10 Quick Wins When Time is Tight

Flexible, time-smart ways to stay engaged—even on a packed schedule

We know your team's time is valuable. Whether bandwidth is tight or they have competing priorities, these strategies help you stay connected and get real value from your UWEBC membership.

Priority Participation Strategies

Fast, flexible, and high-return options

1. Assign One Person to Attend and Share Back

One person attends, summarizes key takeaways, and shares with the team—they can even use slides and video from the event.

2. Register to Access Materials On Your Schedule

Register for "assets only" to receive recordings and slides after the session. If you let us know what's most relevant, and we'll point you to the key sections of the presentation and videos.

3. Get a Quick Debrief

Short on time? Your Practice Director can give you a 15-minute recap tailored to your role or challenge.

4. Shape the Content Before the Event

Tell us what your team's working on—we'll do our best to align the session content to make it more applicable and time-worthy.

5. Join a Peer Group Discussion

Join 30-minute conversations on targeted topics with peers facing similar challenges—quick, relevant, and actionable.

6. Bring UWEBC into Your Team Meetings

Use slides or short video clips in team meetings. No extra time needed—just plug into what's already scheduled. Practice Directors can join a portion of your team meetings as well.

7. Submit an Advisory Request

If your topic isn't covered, ask. You might be one step away from a peer who's already tackled it. UWEBC isn't pulling you from your work—we're helping you move it forward, with a trusted partner.

8. Join Virtually as a Team—Even for 60 Minutes

Watch together and debrief right after. Builds shared team context and speeds up implementation.

9. Ask for Role-Specific Highlights

We'll flag which parts of the event are most relevant by role—so everyone gets what they need without extra digging.

10. Combine Events with Team Strategy Time

Turn in-person attendance into a team offsite. We'll help you find nearby space to make the most of your time together.
